Republic Electric has changed its name!

Our new name is Republic Intelligent Transportation Services, Inc. – Republic ITS for short.

For many years we have been much more than just an electrical contractor. Our name change reflects the result of our evolving business activities. In addition to traffic signal and street lighting maintenance (which remain at the core of our business) we have grown and developed a full-fledged Traffic Engineering and Consulting Services division. We also provide two facilities to support traffic signal component testing, repair and certification services. As a result of our longstanding, excellent relationships with many manufacturers of signal and streetlight equipment, we are also able to act as a materials distributor for you. Please watch for more information regarding our Materials Distribution business in the near future.

This diverse, yet complementary set of services goes far beyond what an electrical contractor can offer. Our name change reflects our ability to provide you this expanded set of services. Republic ITS is not just an electrical contractor that handles streetlights and traffic signals. Republic ITS is an industry leading transportation services company, positioned to intelligently support all of your traffic and streetlight needs.

For more information about our Engineering and Consulting Services, and our Test and Repair Services, contact us at 1-800-LIGHTS-ON (800-544-4876) or visit our website at www.RepublicITS.com.

Our dedicated management team and strong corporate structure remains unchanged. Our phone numbers and addresses are the same. Our email addresses have been updated from “electric” to “ITS”. For your convenience, the old email addresses will continue to work for some time.

As always, you can count on Republic ITS to provide the same outstanding services you have come to expect!

Sincerely,
